Foreword

"We Strive to Prove Worthy"

The close of another day is upon us. In looking over our accomplishments we can say as Paul said, "I have finished my course; I have kept the faith."

Winston-Salem Teachers College afforded us many experiences. Some of these were sorrowful while others were joyful; some were defeats while others were triumphs.

We are grateful for the care, the understanding, and the devotion which have unselfishly been bestowed upon us.

We are thankful to God who in all of his omnipotence has directed our steps to the majestic heights of Parnassus.

GREETINGS TO THE CLASS OF 1959

Congratulations to your class for choosing
"Human Rights" as the theme of the 1959 RAM.

Each Senior has a great responsibility in this time of tension, fears, and anxieties to promulgate such a thesis.

This issue is an evidence of the cooperation and loyalty of members of the class toward the Administration, Alumni, and the College Family.

F. L. Atkins

Dedication

In grateful cognizance of her capability, integrity, personality, and resourcefulness, the Senior Class dedicates the 1959 RAM to an energetic, talented, and faithful Advisor, MISS FLORENCE T. BUTLER.

Her untiring efforts, voluntary time, patience and loyalty have made the past four years pleasant and successful. Teacher, Counselor, Advisor, and Friend, the Class of 1959 extends its appreciation.

Special

Recognition

To S. Wilfred Blalock goes the distinguished award of special recognition for outstanding work in the field of education.

During his years at Winston-Salem Teachers College, he has risen from Chairman of the Program Committee to President of the National Student Education Association.

We, the class of 1959, extend to him our heartfelt wishes and hopes of continued success in all future endeavors.

Dear Class of 1959:

Education is truly a growing process. We have merely begun our climb, but as time goes by, we hope to conquer the unknowns of our universe.

The essence of my life is to serve humanity. If I can do some good each day and help to uplift mankind along my way, I will be happy.

With great felicity, I express my sincere gratitude to you for recognition on this page.

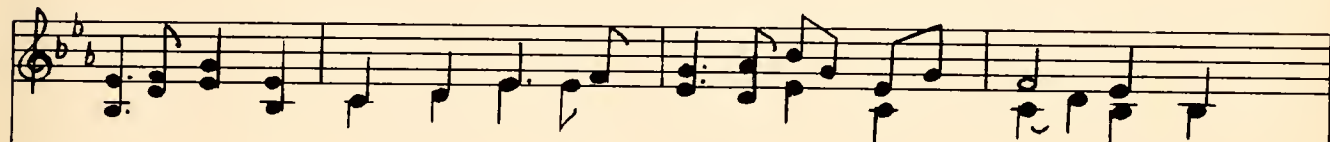

S. Wilfred Blalock

THE UNIVERSAL DECLARATION of Human Rights

Whereas disregard and contempt for human rights have resulted in barbarous acts which have outraged the conscience of mankind, and the advent of a world in which human beings shall enjoy freedom of speech and belief, and freedom from fear and want, has been proclaimed as the highest aspiration of the common people,

Class History

Our class history is a drama which consists of four acts.

Characters: Members of the 1959 Senior Class.

Setting: Winston-Salem Teachers College.

By—Norma Lamb

ACT I

The curtains open. The class of 1959 entered the WSTC in September 1955, seeking a higher education with the hopes of securing the B.S. degree.

During Orientation Week we became acquainted with each other and soon became adjusted to our new environment. At the end of the week we were eager to start working with our class advisor, Miss Florence T. Butler.

Many of us began to participate in the extra-curricular activities on the campus of the college.

Soon it was Homecoming season. We chose as attendant to Miss T. C. the lovely Grace Rowland to represent our class.

The Student Council sponsored an all College Talent Contest. The first prize was won by the Freshman Class.

With the coming of the Winter Quarter, we found ourselves in the process of electing capable class leaders. The officers were Calvert Smith, President; Sophia Bailey, Secretary; Beatrice Robinson, Treasurer; Cornelia Sibert and Eva Smith, Student Council Members.

In December we presented our first chapel program entitled Living Madonnas.

The Freshman-Sophomore Dance climaxed the first act of our drama.

The curtains slowly closed as the marvelous year ended.

ACT II

The curtains opened swiftly. In the fall of 1956 many of us were determined to accomplish more this year than we had in the past.

We were again progressing under the same class officers' capable leadership.

Homecoming time arrived. We chose the adorable Elma Fulp to serve as attendant to Miss T. C.'s court.

Several of our young men engaged in the various sports offered at the college. Our basketball team won the CIAA Championship Tournament. Rufus McClendon played and Fred Davis was a member of this team.

As the action of the drama continued, we found some of our Sophomores making significant achievements. Young women were chosen "sweethearts" and "queens" for fraternities. Greekdom claimed many girls and fellows. Names appeared on the rosters of the Band, the Choir, the Drama Guild and other organizations. A large group made the honor roll.

One of our outstanding organizations, the NAACP, crowned Ruth Goolsby, who made a regal queen.

The last big effort for the year was the Freshman-Sophomore Parisian Ball.

We left T. C. with great anticipation for the coming year.

ACT III

The curtains opened again on our Junior year. Some of us were asked to be big sisters and brothers to the Freshman class during their Orientation Week.

New officers were chosen to lead us through this glorious year. Jacqueline Martin, President; Kennetta Hairston, Secretary; Cornelia Sibert, Treasurer; Elma Fulp and Lorenzo Dixon, Student Council Members.

During Homecoming, our class candidate for Miss T. C. was Princess Simmons.

Class History

Our next great task was that of taking the Junior Tests. We gave a big sigh of relief when they were over.

In honor of Elias Gilbert, one of our classmates who is an outstanding track star, we presented a chapel program. Herbert Conaway also made an excellent record in track.

Calvert Smith rated high in baseball. He was also on the football team with William Kaukeano, Walter Gaines, James Webster and Billy Williams.

The outstanding nurse of the year was Hazel Catherine Thompson.

The best Actor Award in the Drama Tournament went to Elliott Thompson.

Prelette McDowell was chosen Miss Harvest Queen.

The student body voted Miss Nora Lamb the Lady of the Month.

Mary White, a newcomer to our class, was elected into a State SNEA office.

A picked group of choir members toured the North in the spring of that year.

Junior nurses were most valuable during the fall epidemic in Winston-Salem. That group of nurses was the largest to leave T. C. for affiliation in New York, Maryland and Tennessee.

Juniors of our class were charter members of Alpha Phi Sigma, a National Honor Society. They were Jacqueline Martin, Herbert Conaway, Shirley Carson and Calvert Smith.

Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Herbert Conaway, President; Odell Watson, Vice-President; Vencie Barrett, Secretary; Nora Lamb, Treasurer; Jacqueline Martin and Calvert Smith, Student Council Members.

The theme of our Junior-Senior Prom was Rendezvous of Stars. The reception in Pegram Hall before the dance surpassed in glamour all previous occasions. This helped to make the Prom a success.

As the school year came to an end, the curtains closed on a happy rising Senior Class.

ACT IV

Finally the curtains opened again. At last we were Seniors. The class officers assumed their positions of leadership.

The Yearbook Staff began to work on the 1959 RAM.

We looked forward to doing our Student Teaching because we knew this was an important step toward graduation.

The trained Senior nurses returned from affiliation, and were welcomed to the campus.

The Seniors' last Homecoming arrived. Betty Pearson, our candidate for Miss T. C., made a fashionable appearance on every occasion. The campaign activities were adroit.

Doris Burke, a Senior, won the title Miss Ram. Elma Fulp was runner-up. All contestants were presented to the public in the Homecoming parade on a decorated float.

After the fall Drama Guild Contest, the best actress award was presented to Nora Lamb.

Billy Williams, James Webster and Calvert Smith were great assets to the football team. William Kaukeano served as statistician for the football and basketball teams during the year.

Some members of our class made Who's Who Among Students in Universities and Colleges. They were Dorothy Allison, Sophia Bailey, Katrena Baldwin, Shirley Carson, Herbert Conaway, Jacqueline Martin, Calvert Smith, Henry Thornton and Thomas Thornton.

Our gift to the college was a life size bust of Elias Gilbert who brought our class and the college world-wide fame. Mr. Hamlet Goore was the sculptor.

We still have to look forward in the spring to Honors Day; May Day; and the Prom.

We plan to graduate as financial members of the T. C. Alumni Association.

Commencement Day will climax the drama. We shall leave dear old T. C. and our most beloved advisor, Miss Florence T. Butler. After the curtains close we shall go forth to other fields of endeavor. We have gained much here, but we must learn to produce, as future leaders in our own environments.

Class Poem

"Looking Backward With Projection"

By Herbert C. Conaway

We think our task is ended here, and rest from toils endured;
We have run the race; done well the work, we think of nothing more.
Some may seek rest from the toilsome days that've been,
But we've only begun our task to exalt this race of men.
In moments of grave thinking, we hail the Winged-Victory, come!
Alas, from her tomb in darkness kept,
And bid her grant us victory over fate and time, and the almighty death.
We see our destiny is certain and bright
And wound in threads of gold,
The Three Weird Sisters, the Fates of Chance,
Our predestin'd good or evil hold.
And yet, our destiny is sure and quick,
For born too soon or late;
We grasp our success to hold from the blind decrees of fate.
We beckon O Beauteous Calliope clad in human wrought,
She sits, it seems unstirring in paeanic thought.
O gracious Muse of poetry and lay,
Sing to us your songs,
We have to depart, quick! allay our fears,
Our way is dark and long.
We pause to stand at the portal's brink,
Enshroud'd in doubt, enmeshed we think.
And why pause we, we fain would ask?
Perhaps, to draw enduring thoughts from a cloudy past.
But oh! The time is nigh, our life's course is set,
And we pause in thoughtfulness of things we must not forget.
By some pensive word, by some rewarding deed, we claim life's work is done,
But far-off in the distance we see the inevitable end.
It seems that proud Hercules holds back with weary hand,
The moving clock; delaying time, dispelling ills, until our paths we find.
But O that big and mighty hand grows weak from too much strain,
Releasing thence, the marching clock; it races on again.
And though, we weep and sorrow long, it avails us not the least;
We have courses to travel and destinies to keep.
With glad and rewarding remembrance of what has been done
To direct our footsteps surely as our future comes,
We question this long awaited moment and we do here reverse,
The infinite stores of knowledge gained in these four years.
With a sure and steady hand, destiny shall complete—
Our life's courses, both successes and defeats.
As we depart together with God's enduring grace,
We sing a noble anthem to this most cherished place.
And though the time shall quickly pass and crown us old and gray,
With forethought of the future, we pause to bless these days.
With nostalgia, we shall remember!
All things here as we shed this parting tear:
The shady walks; the vast expanse of green,
We halt to take one, long look—the last, maybe so,
As we go forth our hearts aglow.
Silence! listen! It seems we hear a distant murmur beckoning us to rejoice
To sounds of some familiar voice:
The cheers at the game, the gay sounds of laughter all alike and each
Soon draws forth the approving speech.
We shall remember!
But soon these sounds quickly fade away though come to linger in our hearts;
To remain forever as we depart—to work our task; do our deed—with godspeed.
Someday we shall return to this cherished place on hallowed grounds
And enjoy once more the old familiar sounds.
Then, we shall remember.

Class Song

TUNE: Tonight We Love

Dear school we hate to leave you,
And all your memories so dear.
The tasks we all stumbled through
And helping hands were always near.

Today we live in the glow that gleams so brightly we know
Our knowledge isn't borrowed nor tomorrow will it be gone, it will always live on as thoughts of thee.

Before we go we want so for you to know that our hearts will always linger with you.

Instilled are our goals we will pursue;

But you are still in our plans

We'll strive for treasures unknown.

For Winston-Salem Teachers College
we will always be grateful as we come to this great milestone.

Teachers College our own!

In Memoriam

MACKINS, ANNA

This memory brightens o'er the past,
As when the sun concealed
Behind some cloud that
Near us hangs,
Shines on a distant field.

Mankind are always happier for having been happy;
So that if you make them happy now,
You make them happy twenty years
Hence by memory of it.

WILBUR ROSS, Track Coach

Coach Ross is a resident of Newark, N. J., and a graduate of Baldwin-Wallace College. He made a name for himself by winning the Pentathlon Championship in 1943 and 44. Since joining the staff in 1954, he has piloted the "Rams" to a national track power. Under his able tutelage, the potential abilities of Elias Gilbert, world title holder in 220 low hurdles and Fran Washington, holder of 3 American collegiate records, have been realized. His teams have won the North Carolina AAU Championship meet for two consecutive years, and with a skeleton crew placed 2nd in the NAIA Track Championship at California. Ross is looking forward to a great season for his boys.

Broad Jumpers: Charles Lewis, and Joseph Middleton.

Elias Gilbert is a migrant from New Jersey where he was a very good trackman in high school. During his freshman year, it was predicted that he would emerge as one of the greatest hurdlers of his era, and he eventually lived up to those expectations. Gilbert is the type of athlete who works extremely hard for all his success, and his work has paid off in that he holds the World's Record in the 220 low hurdles at the time of this printing. There are no limits to the heights to which Elias can climb.

Herbert Conaway is a product of Bordentown, New Jersey, where he was a very good athlete. Herbert is one of the most serious athletes one can meet. He undertakes each and every practice session with a new determination. He loves the sport and he'll go all out to win as long as he can do it in a good-sportsman-like manner. His presence will be missed next year.

Fran Washington is the other great hurdler for Teachers College. He comes to North Carolina from Boston, Mass., and his value to the team is beyond explanation. During his three years here, he has managed to accumulate the American Record in the 440 yard hurdles, the National AAU 220 yard low hurdles record, and the CIAA 220 yard low hurdles record at the time of this printing. Fran has one more year to run for Teachers College. The sky is the limit for his success.

The Winston-Salem Teachers College track team has continued to grow and grow each year. Through this team, Winston-Salem Teachers College has become known all over the United States, for the team has participated in track meets all over the United States, and in each meet, it leaves its mark. The track team is one of the hardest working teams in the conference, if not the hardest. Coach Ross constantly drives his boys, for he is a strong advocate of the theory that "practice makes perfect." The one factor about the team that is applicable to its success is that the members on the team are extremely close to each other. They have that feeling of "oneness" which is a part of every championship team. Our hats are off to the track team because they are able to stride so gracefully under adverse circumstances.

Baseball

When the vaunted Morgan Bears scaled the gridiron heights during the 30's much of their success was attributed to the all around play of "Tank" Conrad. "Tank" was noted as an all time Morgan and conference great. He received his M.A. from N. Y. U. "Tank" was also a star pitcher in baseball. "Tank" is a baseball theorist of the first rank. He believes that a sound body and sound mind produce a sound athlete.

Thomson, Bobby Jones. First Row: Jacob Simms, Arthur Pharr, Paul Hayes, Calvert Smith, Lenville Harriston, Eddie Bratton.

All-Conference

Calvert "Chicago Smitty" Smith is a product of Carver High School in Chicago, Illinois. "Smitty" has been T. C.'s first string catcher ever since he's been here. He started every game, and he missed only three innings of play. He came into his own last year and earned himself a position on the all-conference team. He has captained the team for three years.

Paul "Say-Hey" Hayes is a graduate of Union High School in New Jersey. "Say-hey" derived his name from the fact that he plays center field similar to Mr. Willie Mays. "Say-Hey" started every game of his college career except for two games last year when he was out with injuries. Anything hit in his direction was a sure out. His all-round ability was a great contributor to his being selected to the all-conference team.

Jodie "30 years" Wilson was the other member of the key-stone combination for the team. In "30 years", T. C. had one of the better short stops in the conference. Not only was he a demon on defense, but he was also valuable offensively because he could hit the long ball—that he usually did.

First Team

If credit could be given to any one man for the success of the 1958 baseball team, it would be given Roy Gerald. Roy brought to the pitching staff many years of experience plus ability which is a hard combination to top. Gerald was at his best last year when he relieved Grant Green in the seventh inning of the second A. & T. game, faced nine batters, gave up one hit, and struck out eight. His season's record was 3 wins and two losses.

Other fellows that were very valuable to the 1958 baseball team were Charles Guthrie, Bobby Jones, Robert Rose, and Lenville Harriston. The team ended the season with a 6-5 record; however, the record is not indicative of the team's ultimate success. The most enjoyable victories of the season came over the high flying North Carolina A. & T. College Aggies, who are arch rivals of T. C. in all athletics. A. & T. went down in defeat twice at the hands of the Teachers, 10-7, and 10-8.

Basketball

Clarence E. (Big House) Gaines, Athletic Director and Head Basketball Coach. "Bighouse" is a graduate of Morgan College where he gained fame as a bruising tackle in the early 40's. "Bighouse" has firmly entrenched himself in the Twin City. In basketball he has guided the Rams to two tournament championships and one visitation title. Under his able guidance, the Rams have also been runner-up to the inevitable champs of the N.A.I.A.—Tennessee State University. "Bighouse" is a driving and demanding coach with sound principles and various philosophies. He maintains that an athlete should not only have a strong body, but also a strong mind and an unquestionable character. One of his main sayings is, "Desire is three-fourths of the victory."

son, Donald Faison, Donald Q. Bradley, Ernest Johnson, George Henry, Jodie Wilson, Roger Dean.

Artie Johnson is the playmaker for the Rams this year. Many of the Ram's victories have come as a direct result of Artie's ability to set up plays, as well as to execute them.

Senior and Captain

Rufus "Bumpsy" McClendon is a product of New York City and the captain of the Rams this year. "Bumpsy" is the "take-charge" guy of the Rams again this year as he has been in the past. "Bumpsy" has participated in every game of his college career from his sophomore year on with the exception of a few when he was out with injuries. He has steadily improved since his freshman year. Each year he got progressively better and better until finally, in his senior year, he has truly blossomed into a star. He is a demon on defense, he has tremendous spring in his legs, and he has speed and determination, all of which constitute a good basketball player. He will definitely be missed next year.

Cleo Hill is a graduate of Southside High School in Newark, N. J., where he was an all-city basketball player. Cleo is just a sophomore, but he is already a star and still developing. This year, the expression, "As Cleo goes, so goes the Rams," has developed, and every word of it is true. Cleo is truly the nucleus of the team. Many times during the course of the season, Cleo has been high point man, with an excess of 20 points and sometimes 30, and he has also emerged as the leading rebounder. Great things are expected of this young man—and rightfully so.

Emmett Gill is the one starter on the squad from North Carolina, being a product of Ligon High School in Raleigh, N. C. Emmett is the most improved ball player on the squad. In just one year, he emerged from the ranks of the unknown to the lamp-light. A number of times this year "Gil" has scored over 20 points, which means that he has the ability, and he is a consistent leader in rebounding. He's only a SOPHOMORE. Watch him!

Tommy Monterio entered the ranks of the participating at mid-season, and became more and more valuable as the season wore on. His major problem was shyness, however, he conquered that and continued to develop. He has the ability, as he has shown a number of times this season, and it is generally accepted that he will be a great help in the years to come. He's only a SOPHOMORE, another one to keep your eyes on.

The 1958-'59 Ram basketball team started the season with everything, so the public figured. Cleo Hill and Tommy Reynolds, the scorers, were both returning in good shape. "Bumpsy" McClendon was the returning captain of the team. Artie Johnson, a Junior, and Bobby Williams, a Freshman, were presumably the playmakers for the team. Eugene Penick, a highly praised Freshman, would have the huge responsibility of filling the gap left by the graduated Wilfred "Lefty" John. Everything was apparently set, then, things began to happen. Tommy Reynolds, one of the scorers, was lost because of poor scholarship. Eugene Penick dropped out of school because of domestic problems, the "big man" was gone. What now, "Bighouse" Gaines went with what he had. Emmett Gill, a 6' 4" "inexperienced" sophomore assumed the center responsibilities, Bobby Rowe stepped into Tommy Reynolds' place, and the burden of point making rested on the broad shoulders of Cleo Hill. It was generally accepted that Teachers College would have a long and rugged basketball season this year because the team was presumably "inexperienced." The eyes of the public were opened during the Holiday Festival in Winston-Salem when Teachers College emerged victorious over the high flying Aggies of North Carolina A. & T. and the mighty Eagles of North Carolina College. Emmett Gill, the "inexperienced" sophomore had scored 40 points in two nights, and had been valuable on the boards; Cleo Hill contributed more than 50 points in two games. Bobby Rowe had supplied the power on the "boards," and Artie and "Bumpsy" had played their usually good games. The "inexperienced" Teachers College Rams were once more the powers on the "hardwood" in the C.I.A.A.

Coaching Staff

Clarence E. (Big House) Gaines, athletic director and head basketball coach. He is also the line coach of the football team. A migrant from the Blue-Grass State. He was a bruising all-American tackle at Morgan in the early 40's. Big House has combined his practical experience with years of eagle-eyed observation to produce representative linemen at Teachers College. He is a strong advocate of conditioning. He frequently remarks during the football season, "Get yourself in shape, the season's only 3 months short."

Thomas R. (Tank) Conrad, head football coach and head baseball coach. "Tank" is one of the greatest football players ever to graduate from Morgan College. He was in college during the 30's, but most of his great exploits on the gridiron are still remembered by the football followers of that era. "Tank" is an "all time all-American" in the C.I.A.A. Prior to his work here, he comprised an impressive and enviable record at Delaware State College.

Russell Murphy, Backfield Coach. Murphy is a 1955 graduate of Teachers College. An all-marine backfield star, Murphy gained invaluable experience playing with the "Pros." He was also a C.I.A.A. conference member. Murphy brings a wealth of youthful experience to his present position. Murphy has been described as the developer of backfield men—and rightfully so.

The 1958-'59 Ram football team was a disappointment in many respects. The team only won three games, and it ended the season with a 3-5-1 record. Man for man and on paper, this year's football team was one of the best teams this institution has ever produced. Before the season started, the coaching staff and many of the players felt like this was going to be the year, but one misfortune led to another, and the team ended the season winning only three of nine games. The one thing that seemed to be lacking in this year's squad was that spark of determination which is the determining factor between success and failure in any endeavor. The one bright spot in the whole picture is the fact that out of a team of about 40 players, only three will be lost because of graduation (two of them lettermen); consequently, barring any misfortunes, the team should have a good season next year because the majority of its players will be experienced veterans.

Calvert Smith has been an active member of the football team for four years. He has played in every game of his college career except one in his freshman year and two in his senior year. "Smitty" was a very dependable guard.

James Webster, a product of Atkins High School in Winston-Salem, will be missed tremendously at the end spot next year. In "Web", Teachers College had a strong, durable, glue-fingered end with years of experience. He started every game of his college career when he was not injured, and he captained the team for three years.

Billy Williams is a graduate of Highland High School in Gastonia, N. C. He was a blocking back in High School; however, he made the transition from blocking back to quarterback in college very easily. "Bull" was an exception in that he was small, but extremely rugged. What he lacked in stature, he more than made up for in "guts" and determination.
